

Governor's Day at Fair Wednesday

Springfield is Well Represented On Grounds Today; Crowd is Large

Today is Springfield, St. Louis and St. Louis County Day at the Missouri State Fair, but the only city with an organized group attending is that of Springfield. Harry B. Carr, mayor of Springfield, headed the group of city and county officials which arrived by bus about 9:30 o'clock this morning. However, there are visitors from St. Louis and St. Louis county attending the exposition.

Mayor A. H. Wilks, of Sedalia, greeted the Springfield group at the city hall and from there they went to the State Fair grounds where John W. Ellis, commissioner of agriculture, and Ernest W. Baker, secretary of the fair, welcomed them. Then our Green county and Springfield visitors dispersed, walking over the grounds to visit the various exhibits.

This afternoon the delegation met the 8th Division, from Fort Leonard Wood and had them as their guests at the fair. Introductions took place in the grandstand. Good Crowd Monday

Monday's attendance passed the corresponding Monday of the 1942 fair. Secretary Baker announced today. The total paid attendance this Monday was 9,360, with 800 service men and women in uniform and an estimated attendance of 5,000 children under twelve years old. This gives a total of 15,160 persons passing through the outside entrances.

On Monday of 1942 there was a paid attendance of 5,982 with an estimate of 5,000 children, a total of 10,982 persons. This gives an increase in attendance of 4,178. Parked automobiles this year dropped over 1942, those parked this year totaling 1,171, while in 1942 there were 1,817. Grandstand paid attendance this year was 4,257 compared with 1,093 in 1942.

Total attendance for the first two days of the 43rd Exposition is 33,728, compared to the first two days' attendance of 1942 which was 27,361.

Governor's Day
Wednesday will be Governor's Day, and Governor Phil Donnelly, and party will arrive about 10 o'clock in the morning. Governor Donnelly will be greeted at the Sixteenth street entrance gates by Commissioner of Agriculture John W. Ellis, and Secretary of the Fair Ernest W. Baker.

They will then tour the grounds for an hour. At 11 o'clock Governor Donnelly will make the presentations of trophies to the winners of the baby contests.

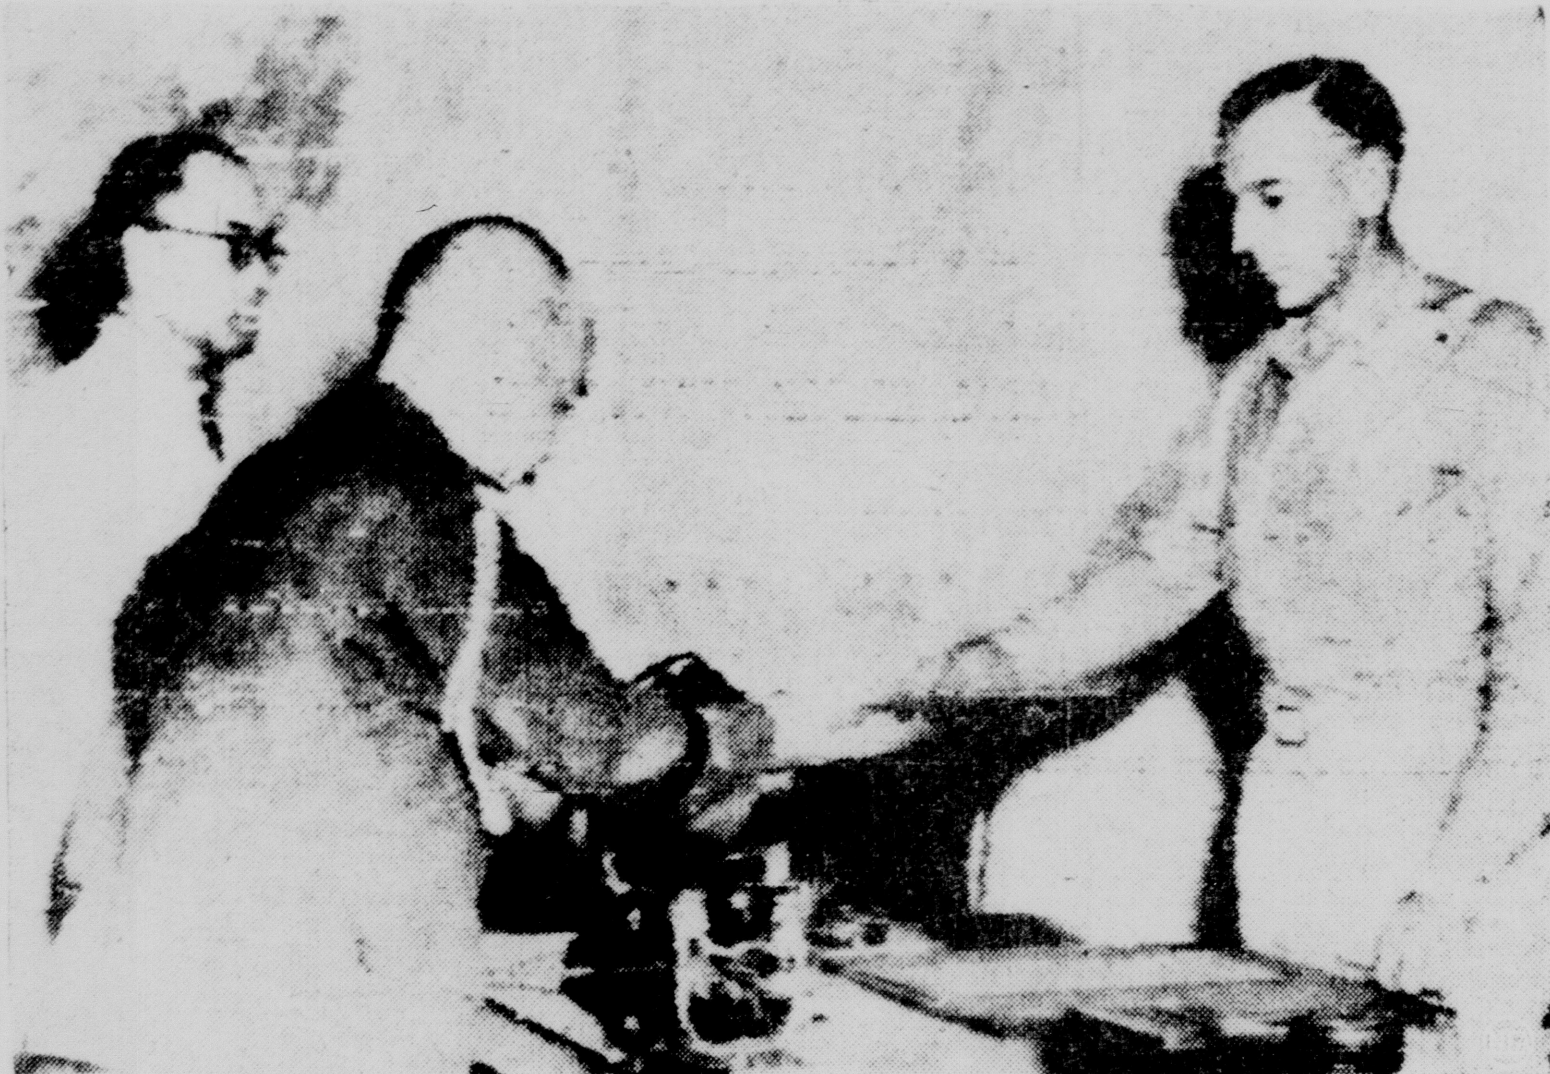

The governor will also give a short address at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the grandstand, preceding the racing program.

Pettis County Winner
In the 4-H State Fair judging program on livestock other than dairy cattle Monday afternoon, Pettis county received the highest number of points, it was announced by Robert Clough, superintendent.

On the Pettis team which scored 973 points were Tom Willmer, G. B. Thompson and Robert Goehns. Other ranking counties are: Second, St. Clair, 970; third, Henry, 935; fourth, Cass, 840; fifth, Morgan, 769; sixth, Moniteau, 642.

Students Judging Program
The highest individual score in the students' livestock judging program at the Missouri State Fair Monday was that of Rolla J. Plattner of Malta Bend. The contest, held in the judging arena of the swine pavilion, was open to students under 25 years of age who have never attended an ag-

Marshall Calls Bond Election For Airport

MARSHALL, Mo., Aug. 21—(P)—A bond election for $85,000 to buy a Civil Aeronautics Authority intermediate airport and to improve the airport administration building and hangars was set last night by the city council for September 14.

The city holds a purchase option on the airport ground now under lease to the CAA.

Jim Russell is Arrested in Stabbing Case

Picked up at Montserrat by Sheriff A. Nichols

Jim Russell, Knob Noster Negro, was arrested Monday evening by Sheriff Alex Nichols of Warrensburg in connection with the fatal stabbing of Pvt. Nelson White, a Negro soldier stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Field, which occurred Sunday evening. Pvt. White died at the SAAF base hospital about 6 o'clock Monday morning.

Russell was picked up at Montserrat when he emerged from a residence there and headed for a store in town. Sheriff Nichols had learned the Negro might be in that vicinity. Russell offered no resistance and accompanied the sheriff to Warrensburg where he was lodged in the Johnson county jail.

Sheriff Nichols today said Russell had given a statement to Prosecuting Attorney Ray Jones of Johnson county, in which he said the stabbing took place during an argument over a dice game. It was said Russell told the officers the whole affair was over about $4 in money and also said they had been doing considerable drinking during the day.

Stabbed Five Times
According to the sheriff a three-bladed pocket knife was used to inflict several stab and slash wounds. It was reported White had been stabbed and slashed at least ten times, two of the stab wounds being in the back of the neck.

Mrs. Mae Aundress of Holden, coroner of Johnson county, is conducting an inquest this afternoon at Knob Noster. The body of Private White is at the Alexander funeral home in Sedalia, where the coroner's jury viewed it. They then returned to Knob Noster to hear evidence in the case.

Pvt. White's body is to be sent to Shreveport, La., his home, for burial. Arrangements have not been completed for the sending of the body home.

Convention in St. Louis Sept. 3

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21—(P)—The Missouri American Legion will hold its annual convention in St. Louis September 3 instead of Jefferson City now that travel restrictions have been relaxed, department commander A. D. Welsh said today.

The executive committee, which authorized the change, will meet here for one day preceding the convention which will also be a one-day streamlined meeting, Welsh said.

About 3,000 persons are expected to attend with an estimated 300 from outstate, Welsh said. District meetings scheduled for Sunday will be held as planned, he stated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—(P)—Don't look for more sugar this year.

A spokesman for the agriculture department gives this picture: Americans now receive about 73 pounds of sugar a year, each. It will remain like that—no increase—way past Christmas. (Before the war Americans got about 100 pounds yearly, each.)

The situation isn't likely to improve until the latter half of 1946, even though army requirements are cut away down.

The reason: The general lack of sugar in the world. The present world supply has to go around with far less sugar produced than before the war.

The Japanese let the Philippine sugar fields go to seed. They have to be re-established. Those islands were great producers.

France Grew Sugar
France grew sugar. During the war its machinery deteriorated. It didn't have labor.

These are examples of the general problem of sweetening the world's cup with less sugar. Here is something else.

Before the war Americans consumed about 6,800,000 tons of sugar yearly.

Now, including the sugar taken by the armed services, America's consumption is 6,200,000. Of that the army takes 1,100,000.

That leaves civilians 5,100,000 tons. As noted, they got 6,800,000 before the war. And the population is larger than it was four years ago.

The army has been using about 280,000 to 300,000 tons every three months.

Suppose it cut that in half in the last three months of 1945 and the other half was given to civilians.

That would mean only 140,000 to 150,000 tons for civilians in those three months or — about 2 pounds more per civilian.

We grow in this country about 2,000,000 tons of sugar from cane and sugar beets yearly. This year's crop has been almost all harvested.

Cuba, a great supplier to this country, hoped to have a crop of 4,800,000 tons.

But the worst drought in 87 years wiped out 900,000 tons.

We know how much the Cuban crop will be because it has been harvested. It is, instead of the hoped for 4,800,000 tons only 3,900,000 tons.

Helping out, of course, will be sugar from American-grown sugar beets, and sugar from Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

But then the liberated countries need sugar. So do countries like Canada and England.

There just isn't enough to go around and give us all we had before.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—(P)—The carrier Hancock suffered 140 casualties from a Japanese dive bomber attack April 7 while operating with the task force that located and sank the enemy's big battleship, Yamato.

Four Members Of Doolittle Group are Free

Rescued by Team Which Parachuted On Peiping Field

By Spencer Moosa

CHUNGKING, Aug. 21—(P)—Four members of the American squadron which Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle led in the first bombing mission over Tokyo have been released from a Japanese prisoner of war camp at Peiping, the office of strategic service announced today.

The names of the four, who were rescued by a humanitarian team which parachuted on the Peiping air field, were withheld pending notification of their families.

Months after the historic raid in April, 1942, the Japanese radio, apparently in an attempt to intimidate other American fliers, announced that some of Doolittle's men had been put to death.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, U. S. commander in China, announced he had received word from Mukden that all American personnel landing there probably would be interned until the Japanese were given permission by the Russians to permit such landings.

Mukden, chief industrial center in Manchuria, was occupied yesterday by the Russians.

One of the Allied humanitarian teams which began a series of parachute descents last week into Japanese-occupied territory in an effort to take food and medical supplies to prisoners of the Japanese landed 100 miles northwest of Mukden and found Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, hero of the gallant last stand of American and Philippine troops at Corregidor.

Wedemeyer's headquarters disclosed that an American transport plane which carried medical aid and supplies for Allied prisoners of war landed at a Canton air field Aug. 19 and was detained five hours. The Japanese, who said the landing was "premature," invited the party to remain until a peace treaty was signed, and finally requested the pilot to leave "before trouble started."

The plane and its personnel returned to base pending negotiations.

Civic Affairs Taken Up By City Council

Walter Jessee On Hospital Board— Talks On Sewerage

Civic affairs were discussed at length by the City Council, meeting in regular session Monday night, with six members present and Mayor A. H. Wilks presiding. Leo Eickhoff was absent, as well as Virgil Herrick, who is a member of the Armed Forces.

Richard Keenan, second ward alderman, chairman of the sanitary committee, reported he had made a trip to Kansas City Tuesday, with sanitary officer Raymond Feters, to try and get parts for the disposal plant in northwest Sedalia, which is out of commission. They were unable to get the needed parts, but in a visit to an engineering firm were given assistance, and a man from that firm will come to Sedalia Wednesday to make an inspection and determine just what is needed at the plant. Mr. Keenan also moved that the city hire a competent firm of engineers to make a preliminary survey of the sanitary and sewerage situation, as well as anything that will involve health problems. It was passed unanimously. Mr. Keenan said he learned such a survey had been made some years ago, and is still in the hands of an engineering company. It may be possible, he reported, that survey may still fit the situation, or may be made to fit with some adjustments.

Hitch-Hiking Teen-Agers Are in Trouble

KIOWA, Okla., Aug. 31—(P)—

Two teen-age youths were being sought, a third was held and an Oklahoma City girl was in critical condition in a McAlester, Okla., hospital today following the slaying of a man identified by the highway patrol as McGraw E. Streckenfinger, 20, Pittsburgh, Kansas.

Streckenfinger was shot last night five miles south of here on U. S. highway 69 after the four teen-agers, bound from Austin, Tex., to Oklahoma City, had hitch hiked a ride in his car, the highway patrol reported.

Lt. C. T. Raley and Sgt. Bill Livingston of the patrol said a boy who told them he was Billy Slusser, 17, Austin, Tex., said Streckenfinger was shot after the four young people ordered him to stop his car. Slusser is being held in the Atoka county jail at Atoka, Okla. No charges have been filed.

Dangerously Hurt
The patrol said the girl was Ann Doser, 18, Oklahoma City. The other two young men were from Texas.

Highway patrol officials said the Doser girl was shot in the mouth during the argument with Streckenfinger and an automobile accident following. She was not expected to live.

Slusser told the highway patrolmen the other two boys left the scene after he had given them $20 he took from Streckenfinger's body.

Waste Fats Still Needed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—(P)—That waste kitchen fat, which aided during the war period, is still badly wanted "and will be for several months," a spokesman for the Agricultural Department said today.

"The situation on oils and fats is still very critical and we need every pound of used fats that we can lay our hands on," he told a reporter.

Shop Crafts' Stand on War II Memorial

Statement to Public Endorsing Original Plan

Members of the Federated Shop crafts have submitted the following statement to the Democrat-Capital for publication setting forth their stand on the proposed Memorial honoring World War II veterans.

"We the members of the federated crafts of the Missouri Pacific shops desire to make known our stand on post war plans. Our combined membership is the largest in this city and our payroll exceeds all others. The brunt of taxation that forms the city's revenue falls upon our employees and membership. No other group has carried the load that we have in the successful prosecution of the war and no cleaner record can be shown. We are also home owners, citizens and voters and in view of the above mentioned facts we are one of the determining factors in any course the city may take. As such we are opposed to an athletic center as a memorial.

"We are not opposed to athletics as such but we are opposed to dedicating something as a memorial that is merely something that should be added to our city as a matter of civic pride.

"Stadiums are a function of our school system and should be left to our school system as has been intimated by those who are in position to know on several occasions.

"If we are to build a memorial at all we demand a proper one. We recognize the fact that Sedalia needs a city hall badly and has needed one for a long time. We would like to see a new city hall built at the same time a memorial building is built, side by side, with a convention hall built in one or the other that would provide a splendid meeting room that would take care of the needs of both the city and the war veterans.

Public Has Voted
"The voters have already voiced their opinion with reference to a new city hall and convention hall and seventy-five thousand dollars was voted to apply to these buildings and is still available. We realize of course that this sum is insufficient but it does express the desire of the citizens of Sedalia and would go a long way toward financing a new city hall.

"The American Legion some time ago expressed its views by voting to support a combination veterans' hall, convention hall and museum and voted to donate five hundred dollars toward these buildings. This again brings out the will of the citizens of Sedalia.

"At the last meeting of the Round Table the question was again brought up and that body sanctioned the popular demand for such a building and appointed a committee to study the possibilities and report back to the Round Table which has not been done. Therefore the pleasure of the Round Table on the question of an athletic center has not even been solicited.

"We have called to your attention the fact that the citizens of Sedalia have expressed themselves on this subject over and over and in a democracy the will of the people is the law.

"We the Federated Shop Crafts of the Missouri Pacific Shops submit to the will of the people and reinforce the original plan of building a new city hall and convention hall or memorial hall.

Allied Occupation Of Japan Sunday; Airborne Landings

Eager Beavers Get Their Wish, They Jumped on Berlin

BERLIN, Aug. 21—(P)—The 82nd Airborne division's "Eager Beaver club" finally got its wish today — it jumped on Berlin.

A detachment of 99 officers and men, mostly veterans of North Africa, Sicily and Anzio, parachuted from transport planes onto a potato and rutabaga patch in Berlin's Neue Koln district. All requested permission to make the jump to fulfill their pledge that one day — in war or peace — they would jump on Berlin. All landed safely.

Communicate To Japanese On Occupation

By the Associated Press

Text of the joint Japanese government and imperial headquarters communicate today on Allied occupation of Japan follows:

"The Allied forces will carry out their landings in Japan from August 26, at which time airborne units will land at Atsugi, while from August 28 further landings from warships and transports will be effected in the Yokosuka area.

"Meanwhile, the Imperial army and navy forces in Kanagawa prefecture and in southwestern area of Boso peninsula will be transferred immediately. A sufficient strength of police force comprising Japanese police and gendarmes will be stationed in areas from which army and navy forces are to be withdrawn, in order to maintain peace and order.

"At this time, the point we wish to emphasize is that the Allied forces will be carried out peacefully and in friendly manner in accordance with arrangements made with the Allied powers and under complete arrangement made by Japan.

"Therefore, the people, especially those civilians and government workers in affected areas must not create unnecessary apprehension, and it is necessary that they continue to maintain order as in normal times and carry on with their work.

Will be Instructed
"Furthermore, the government will provide instructions to city mayors, village heads, and town assembly heads and the civilians in general via newspapers and radio.

"1. The Japanese army and navy, as stated earlier, will carry out rapid transfer movements from these areas; consequently, the use of railways by general passengers and those who ride to their work in the affected areas will be prohibited for the time being. Those who ride to their work, even though they are government workers, who cannot report to work because of this restriction, may stay home.

"2. Following the landing of the Allied forces and withdrawal of imperial army and navy forces, activities of the government machinery in general and public organizations will be continued as in normal times. Particularly, the responsibility over the food distribution and other matters relative to the securing of the people's livelihood, will be fully assumed by the government and public organizations, so there is no need to feel worried. Moreover, those who work in distributing foods, in particular, must continue their work.

No Direct Contact
"3. In regards to the supplying of living quarters and food to the Allied landing forces, the army and the government will assume full responsibility, there will be no direct contact between the general public and the Allied landing forces. We emphasize this point.

"4. In accordance with the situations which may arise, the government and the local authorities will issue necessary instructions. Responsible government and civilian leaders should carry these instructions thoroughly, and at the same time, take active part in leading the citizens in general."

Organized Fighting Ends
All organized fighting had apparently ended in Manchuria, the newest and greatest land front of the war.

The Kwangtung army, backbone of Nippon's war machine, was surrendering in droves, but Moscow radio reported Japanese "werewolves" were operating at night, attacking with knives and daggers.

Surrender envoys from Gen. Yasuji Okamura, Japanese commander in China, arrived at Chinkiang to arrange details for laying down their arms, with Gen. Ho Yin-Chin, head of Chinese forces.

Clashes between Chiang Kai-shek's nationalist troops and communist forces were reported in North China. Chiang denied a communist appeal for participation in Japanese surrender and again asked communist leaders to confer with him in Chungking.

Chungking announced four members of Lt. Gen. James Doolittle's first bombers of Tokyo had been released from a prison camp near Peiping.

Fighting In Burma
Fighting continued in Burma despite a demand from Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten to Field Marshal Count Juichi Terauchi to surrender his forces in southeast Asia. Leaflets telling of the end of the war were rained on the Japs from airplanes, by artillery shells, and sent by canoes and posted on trees in the jungles.

No Last Minute Atrocities Reported
CHUNGKING, Aug. 21—(P)—There have been no reports of any last minute atrocities in Japanese prison camps in China such as occurred in the Philippines, says Brig. Gen. George Olmsted.

Olmsted, who planned the operations of American prisoner of war rescue teams, said American and other Allied peoples would be comforted to know that, up to the present, the teams have found "there was adequate medical attention and a very low incidence of hospital cases."

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

(Ed. Note—In Drew Pearson's absence, Fred M. Vinson, secretary of the treasury, contributes a guest column on one of the most important problems of the treasury—tax evasion.)

By Fred M. Vinson
Secretary of the Treasury

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—Drew Pearson has offered me his Washington Merry-Go-Round column to present any subject of interest to the treasury department and to the American people. I know of no subject of more immediate concern than the treasury's campaign against tax evasion.

Here, in a nutshell, is the situation the treasury faces:

In 1940 there were 4,999,999 individual taxpayers. Today there are more than 50,000,000. In an effort to handle the vastly increased task of processing returns and collecting taxes the personnel of the bureau of internal revenue was increased from about 22,000 to about 50,000.

With the manpower shortage the bureau could not expect to increase its forces proportionately with the number of taxpayers. And in many respects bureau employees found their work increased out of proportion to the number of returns. Under the withholding program, a large part of the work formerly done by the taxpayer is now done in the bureau. The processing of wartime tax relief provisions also threw much additional work upon the bureau. Under these conditions the normal investigative work of the bureau inevitably suffered.

The bureau has always proceeded upon the theory that the average American is honest, and that a small but efficient force could deal with the dishonest.

But millions of us are now taxpayers and the honest must be protected against those among us who, tempted by war-swollen incomes and shortages in civilian goods and services, would cheat the rest of us.

No city, however small, can afford to be without a police force. And no city, which has experienced a population increase of more than ten-fold in a five-year period, would think of trying to get along without enlarging its law enforcement groups.

That is why the treasury is building up its investigative forces. Our objective is to recruit and train 5,000 men.

Protecting Honest Taxpayers

This will be no gestapo. It will be a taxpayers' law enforcement group protecting the government's interest in taxes, and at the same time protecting the honest taxpayer against the black market operator, the racketeer and every other kind of tax evader. And it will be good business, too. We expect to collect $20 for every one spent.

When taxes are evaded the honest taxpayer loses, since every dollar evaded increases by that much the burden borne by other taxpayers. In many cases, the honest taxpayer has special reason to welcome the tax-evasion

New Super-Bomber Outdistances B-29s

Announcement by Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commander of U. S. Air Forces, of a new Army super-bomber reveals a plane that would cover all of Asia, the Pacific and the Atlantic from present U. S. bases. With a range two and one-half to three times that of a B-29, pictured above, it could fly from Hawaii to the China coast for a bombing mission and return, as shown on map.

campaign. A reputable furrier or jeweler, for instance, could not continue in business if a next-door competitor should be permitted to sell furs or jewelry without collecting excise taxes. Any business firm which cheats the government by failing to pay for the services which government provides is engaged in dishonest competition, just as much as if it cheated the landlord out of his rent or workers out of their pay. Taxes are high, but they must be collected fairly. And so long as any substantial portion of the taxes due remains uncollected, it operates to defer the reduction of tax rates.

Much more than expedience directs this tax-evasion campaign. Fundamental morality is involved. The man who evades taxes picks his neighbor's pocket. And in these times, when we are asking so much from the men in uniform any pocket picking at their expense becomes unthinkable. As President Truman has said:

"We are not fighting this war to make millionaires and certainly we are not going to allow the black market operators or any other racketeers to be in a favored class, when the men in the armed forces, and our citizens generally, are sacrificing so heavily."

My readers may say, "All right. Tax evasion is indefensible. How bad is it? What are you doing about it?"

One Billion Evaded

The answers to the two questions go together. The treasury is gathering, from many sources, information that will give the picture of tax evasion. That same information will serve as evidence to bring tax evaders to justice. The treasury is enlarging its investigating forces, as I have noted, to handle a tremendous backlog of fraud cases, accumulated during recent years and the cases now piling in. My predecessor, Secretary Morgenthau, who set the machinery in motion for this tax-evasion campaign, estimated that a minimum of one billion dollars in additional taxes now being evaded would be collected when treasury forces could be expanded, and new workers could be trained and get on the job.

More recently, we have strengthened the drive by intensifying cooperation with other government departments and agencies interested in stamping out black markets, rackets and tax evasion. An interdepartmental committee, with representatives from the treasury department, the department of justice, the office of price administration and the department of agriculture, has gone to work to coordinate information and activities. We intend to be in a position to hit hard.

Black Market Operators

Take, for example, the black market operator. He uses currency in an effort to avoid making a record of his violations of the price control act, and because he thinks his profits cannot be traced he does not report them on his income tax return or under-states them. The treasury and the OPA have an equal interest in proceeding against this gentry, and from now on we will proceed more effectively than ever before.

Only a novice boxer telegraphs his blows. We are not going to tell the black market operators and other tax evaders, in advance what we are going to do or how or when or where we are going to do it. But a moment's reflection should convince anyone who has engaged in tax evasion that there is no future in it. What can a man do with illegal profits? He can buy land or jewels, but he cannot avoid leaving one or many traces that can be discovered and followed up whenever the treasury and other agencies have enough men to do the job.

We in the treasury are getting the men and training them. We will have invaluable help from other departments of government in meeting our problems and we, in turn, will help them in meeting theirs. And we are constantly expanding the sources from which we will obtain information that will trap the tax evader. He may think he can escape by shoving his concealed profits in a safe-deposit box or by burying them in the ground. But whenever such currency reappears, it begins to leave a telltale trail.

Honest Tax Mistakes

No honest American need fear this drive against tax evaders. No one is going to jail for an honest mistake in filling out his tax return. Treasury policy even permits the willful evader to escape prosecution if he repents in time. The commissioner of internal revenue does not recommend criminal prosecution in the case of any taxpayer who makes a voluntary disclosure of omission or other misstatement in the tax return or of failure to make a tax return. Monetary penalties may be imposed for delinquency, for negligence and for fraud, but the man who makes a disclosure before an investigation is under way protects himself and his family from the stigma of a felony conviction. And there is nothing complicated about going to a collector or other revenue officer and simply saying, "There is something wrong with my return and I want to straighten it out."

A great many people are taking advantage of this opportunity to get right with their government. During the past two months an average of 1,000 persons in the United States have voluntarily filed amended returns. I do not intend that all of these persons have been willful tax evaders. In the normal course of events many Americans file such delinquent and amended returns as they discover and followed up whenever the treasury and other agencies have enough men to do the job.

We in the treasury are getting the men and training them. We will have invaluable help from other departments of government in meeting our problems and we, in turn, will help them in meeting theirs. And we are constantly expanding the sources from which we will obtain information that will trap the tax evader. He may think he can escape by shoving his concealed profits in a safe-deposit box or by burying them in the ground. But whenever such currency reappears, it begins to leave a telltale trail.

tainly any tax evader who has not yet seen the light would be well advised to take corrective action while there is yet time to square himself with his conscience and his government without suffering the further indignity or public indictment, trial and punishment.

I do not want to see the penitentiaries filled with tax evaders. But to be fair with the honest man the government must deal sternly with the dishonest one. And, to quote the final phrase of President Truman's statement, in announcing his indorsement of the treasury's tax-evasion drive:

"That is just what we are going to do."

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

Bob C. Combs, better known as the "Duke of Gemo" staked his reputation as a weather prophet at noon today by the unqualified statement that there will not be another drop of rain, after today, in Sedalia during Fair week. And all hope that the genial Robert knows whereof he speaks.

Tim Patrick, who has been a resident of Pettis county for 73 years, is down from LaMonte to join the Old Settlers' association.

There are ample accommodations this year for feeding the visitors to the state fair, and the prices are very reasonable and the meals served are excellent in quality and quantity. The Christian, Broadway Christian, Fifth Street Methodist Episcopal, South and the Epworth Methodist Episcopal churches have dining rooms where one can get all he wants to eat for twenty-five cents. Besides the dining halls there are a large number of lunch counters, which are conducted by private parties, where the visitor may obtain sandwiches, pie, cake and iced drinks.

Machinery hall, one of the new buildings constructed this year at the fair, is located in the extreme southern section of the fair grounds. It is a composite structure, two of the cattle barn buildings, constructed in 1901, being connected by a commodious "L" the whole forming a very large building, with an immense floor space.

Injured When Car is Wrecked

Mrs. Evelyn Mickens wife of William Mickens of St. Louis, is in a serious condition at City Hospital No. 2, and her young daughter, Shirley, is also in the hospital, after an automobile accident which occurred early Sunday morning about five miles east of Sedalia on highway 50.

The Mickens family were enroute from their home in St. Louis to Leavenworth, Kas., to visit relatives, and Mrs. Mickens was driving the car. Her husband, who was asleep, suddenly awoke and thinking the car was going off the road grabbed the steering wheel causing Mrs. Mickens to lose control of the car. The car went into a ditch.

Mrs. Mickens received lacerations of her forehead, a fracture of a vertebra bruises on the face and body and probably internal injuries.

Shirley received lacerations of the upper right gum but is getting along satisfactorily.

V-J Day Will not be A Legal Holiday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—(AP)—President Truman plans to make a brief radio address to the nation on V-J Day.

The definite plan for the speech, which the White House already had indicated as probable, was announced today by Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary.

He said it will come on the day of Japan's formal signing of surrender terms, which General Douglas MacArthur has indicated probably will be in about 10 days. But V-J day will not be a legal holiday, Ross said.

PREPARATION FOR WAR

IN order to prepare herself for the task of world conquest, Japan, like Nazi Germany, carried through within 10 years a complete spiritual, political, economic, and military mobilization of the nation. The mobilization began in 1931, when the "Manchuria Incident" put the nation in a war-like mood and the military in the saddle. It was fairly well completed just before Pearl Harbor. Through it, Japan was converted from a promising democracy into a totalitarian military state whose super-structure followed the Nazi blue-print, but whose foundation was wholly Japanese.

The spiritual mobilization consisted of a ruthless purge of all American and European thought, and a return to the spirit of Old Japan. Liberalism and individualism, freedom and democracy, which had given Japan the semblance of a modern nation, were denounced as causes of disunity and decay, and expunged as "dangerous thoughts." Instead, Japan was subjected to a total regimentation of every phase of national life as rigid as that of Nazi Germany. In the spiritual field it was even more successful because it had an ancient religion to build upon. As in Germany, this new totalitarianism, based on a revival of ancient ways and ancient superstitions, was hailed in Japan as the wave of the future and presented to the world as means for its salvation.

The political mobilization consisted of the suppression of all political parties and the creation of a one-party state functioning under the Fuehrer principle and centering around the Emperor. But the leadership was completely in the hands of the dominant military clique. The single party organization, together with the Diet filled by it, became merely a puppet of the military, like the Emperor.

The State Above All
The economic mobilization, carried through by so-called "New Bureaucrats" under the aegis of the military, established complete state control over industry, commerce, and trade, over capital and labor, over production and consumption.

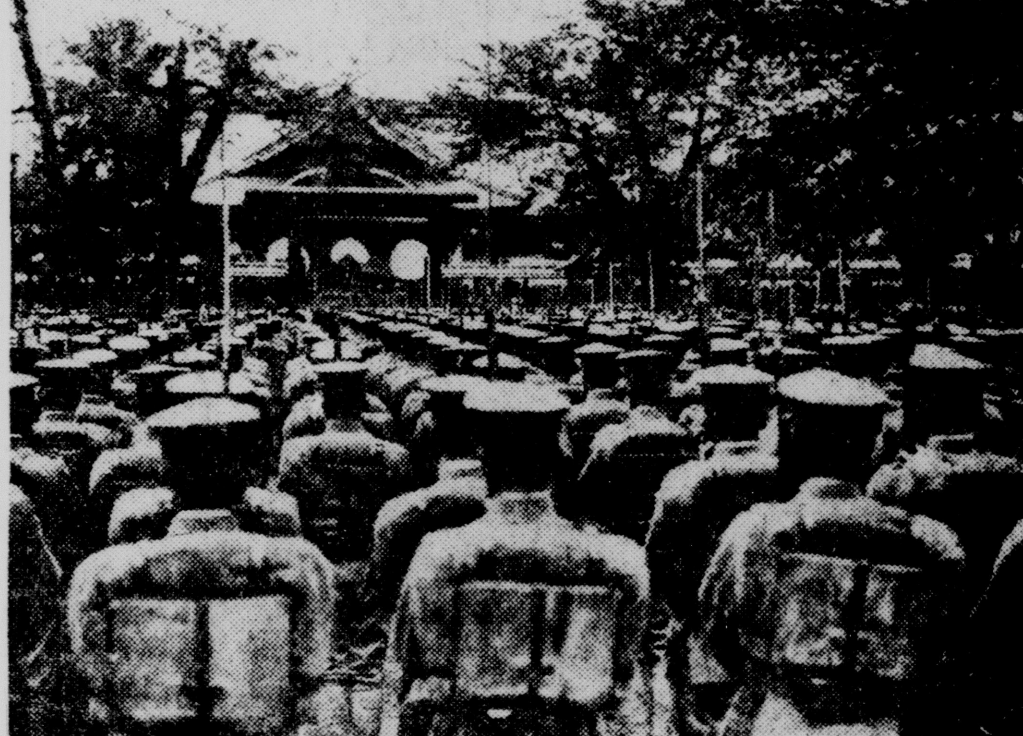

Finally, the military mobilization, the end product of all other measures, was completed in greatest secrecy, but with such efficiency that its results surprised the world. Part of the military mobilization was the "battle of the cradle"—to increase Japan's birth rate in order to replace the losses of the war, to produce more people to shout for more land, and to furnish more soldiers to conquer it.

In any case, when Japan sent her air and naval forces against Pearl Harbor, she was ready for total war.

"FROM the viewpoint of the supreme importance of the State, we must regulate and control the benefits and liberties of the individual. The State is the totality and the individual is a part. The whole does not exist for the part but the part for the whole. The part lives through the life of the whole, and if there is a struggle between the whole and the part, or even between different parts (i.e., political parties), the whole and the parts will be destroyed together."—Showa Ishin (The Showa Restoration) by Yosuke Matsuoka, Tokyo, 1938.

"Even in Japan ideas of democratic liberalism controlled our national thought for a while, but a great reaction has risen against them, and the parliamentary government advocated by some statesmen is now strongly denounced, and the totalitarianism which has been the principle of our national structure for 3000 years is rapidly reviving."—Kokusai Nippon no Chiri (The International Position of Japan), by Toshio Shiratori, Tokyo, 1938.

be sent to a preventive detention station where they will be kept until the authorities have satisfied themselves that they have become thoroughly converted."—Yoshiro Nakamura, Superintendent of Preventive Detention Station at Yokotama Penitentiary, Tokyo, in the Nichi Nichi, May 16, 1941.

"The United States, unaware of the complete preparations on the part of Nippon, not only made a serious diplomatic blunder in the Nippon-United States conversations at Washington, but also underestimated the actual strength of our country. The United States was misled particularly by the assumption that Nippon's national power had become exhausted by the military operations in connection with the China Emergency."—The New Order in Greater East Asia (Japanese magazine), April, 1942.

A picture that is becoming more and more familiar throughout the nation is this scene at Douglas Aircraft's Long Beach, Calif., plant. ## Lt. Glassburn Has Legion of Merit Medal

Lieut. Col. Wade L. Glassburn, brother of Mrs. C. G. Wilson, of the Dean apartments, recently was awarded the Legion of Merit medal for action in the battle of Luzon. He previously had received the Bronze Star medal.

The citation reads: "Lieut. Col. Wade L. Glassburn, general staff corps (Field Artillery, U. S. A.) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in performance of outstanding service on Luzon, P. I., from 27 February 1945 to 30 May 1945. Assigned to 32nd infantry division as assistant chief of staff, G-3, on 27 February 1945 when that unit was engaged in the Villa Verde trail operations, Col. Glassburn's quick grasp of the situation enabled him to plan, coordinate and effect immediately the successful, tactical employment of division units.

"To obtain first hand information and keep abreast of the rapidly changing situation he frequently visited the front regardless of personal safety. At the conclusion of the operations he efficiently planned and supervised the movement of the division to a new area for reorganization and training. Sixth Day for Paper Strike

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 21—(P)—The St. Louis newspaper strike entered its sixth day today with the ALF Paper Carriers Union apparently no nearer agreement than when it started last Thursday.

Two proposals on each side have been rejected. Publishers were understood to be considering a third proposal from carriers today, but there were strong indications it would also be turned down.

Dr. C. J. Antos, also of the health board, have been giving the physical examinations, with the help of a staff of nurses and clerks. Monday afternoon more than a hundred entries had registered for the Blue Ribbon class and over fifty boys and girls had entered in the Nine-Point class. The Blue Ribbon class is comprised of youngsters from 12 to 48 months of age and the Nine-Point group is made up of boys and girls from four to 14 years old.

A free service offered by the State Health Board at the fair this year is the X-ray department at the educational building where pictures may be obtained without charge.

Miss Hortense Taylor, secretary to Dr. Garner, is in charge of the registration at the child health clinic and she has supervised posting of placards in the room as well as the arrangement of free bulletins and literature on child care.

Regional Meet Missouri War Chest Group

Held Today at Bothwell Hotel; Judge Houser Speaks

An address by Judge Norwin D. Houser, president of the Missouri War Chest, featured the regional meeting of War Chest workers held at the Bothwell Hotel, Sedalia, today. Judge Houser emphasized the importance of the drive for funds to be held this October. He stated that U. S. O. and United Seamen's Service will be needed to keep up the spirits of occupation soldiers and those who will be several months getting home. He said that following victory in Europe the demand for U. S. O. entertainers in Europe increased instead of decreased.

Chairman of the meeting was Foster B. McHenry, who is regional chairman of the war chest. He pointed out the need for a complete and enthusiastic organization to insure success in the fall drive. He introduced Capt. John Biggs, recently released from a German prison camp after being shot down over Rumania. Captain Biggs told of the big part that war prisoners' aid, USO, and other War Chest supported agencies play in helping members of the armed forces.

Executive Director Edward D. Dail of the War Chest stated that cooperation and willingness to help will be needed to enable Missouri to measure up to the needs as she has in the past two years.

Judge N. O. Houser

Judge Houser also emphasized the recent statement by President Truman that unless we do what we can to help those in devastated

Scrapping Of 210 Controls On Production

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—(AP)—The War Production Board Monday scrapped 210 production controls in a sweeping move to speed reconversion of American industry.

In one stroke the agency wiped out restrictions which had prohibited or limited manufacture of hundreds of consumer products.

Only about 125 controls were left on the books. WPB said many of those would be revoked in the next few days.

Among controls eliminated were those on the number of radios, refrigerators and trucks that could be produced. Ceilings on automobile production will be lifted very shortly, WPB said.

Also scrapped were restrictions on manufacture of such products as stoves and laundry equipment, metal furniture, electric fans, motorcycles, storage batteries, photographic film, shipping containers, oil burning equipment, silk and cotton duck, machine tools, construction machinery and caskets.

J. A. Krug, WPB chairman, said removal of controls was designed "to facilitate the reconversion of industry and speed the flow of a wide variety of peacetime products into the hands of consumers, while still avoiding price inflation, preemption of scarce supplies, or a buyers' scramble."

Many Effective Now
"These moves," Krug said, "are further steps toward achievement of fundamental WPB policy to make it easy for industry to help itself and to solve problems without government assistance."

Except for most chemicals and a handful of other items, the revocations are effective immediately.

Krug stressed that WPB had conferred with consumer durable goods manufacturers on "the importance to economic stabilization of large production in their lines."

"They have agreed," he continued, "to produce the same proportion of low cost merchandise as they did prior to the war. The lifting of individual orders does not remove this obligation from industry. We are prepared to reimpose our orders if this does not prove to be the case."

The WPB chief said also that industry had agreed "to do all it can to step up output to high levels."

He said WPB would keep a careful watch on the effects of removal of controls and "will reimpose whatever restrictions may become necessary."

Krug promised that priorities assistance will be used to crack any bottlenecks which threaten to impede civilian production. He emphasized, however, that aid would be given "only after the applicant has exhausted all possible means of helping himself."

reimposed for expenses of the trip to Kansas City, which motion also carried.

Propose Planning Group
Frank Middleton, first ward alderman, moved the mayor appoint a committee of fifteen citizens to serve with members of the Council as a postwar planning group, remarking that other cities are working on postwar plans and it was his opinion Sedalia should be doing something.

Keenan objected to such a committee, stating he did not believe the City Council representation should just be seven of a committee of 22. The motion was lost for want of a second.

At a previous meeting Keenan had moved members of the Council be members of civic committees for postwar planning. His motion did not get a second.

Walter Jessee On Board
Walter Jessee, a former Democratic alderman, an employee of the City Council, was appointed by the mayor, and approved by the Council as a member of the hospital board, succeeding L. C. Bryson, resigned.

Eunice Marshall's application to sell 3.2 beer at 315 North Osage avenue, was denied.

Keenan reported he learned recently some Sedalians, and some of them merchants, had been loaning money to minors, on watches or other articles of value, and the money had been spent on parties. "Such action," said Keenan, "sometimes contributes to delinquency, and these is an ordinance governing the loaning of money on articles, for interest."

He said that at least two of the instances had been brought to the attention of the police.

John Taylor reported the roof on city hospital, No. 2, has been completed.

The contract for resurfacing Harrison avenue, from Third street to Broadway, was awarded to the W. J. Menefee Construction company, and an ordinance passed as an emergency that the work might begin at once. The price is 31 cents per square yard.

Also passed as an emergency was an ordinance providing for a street light at Tenth street and Murray avenue.

Read for the first time was an ordinance establishing a light at Nineteenth street and Montgomery avenue, and another to construct a concrete gutter on Barrett avenue, from Sixteenth street to Eighteenth street.

Passed was an ordinance providing for a light at the intersection of Pettis street and Kentucky avenue.

A settlement of $3,096.70 insurance was accepted for the fire destruction at the incinerator.

Discussion On Lots
Frank L. Wagner, a prospective buyer of city property west of the park, in which transaction the ordinance governing same was up and tabled, was at the meeting, and a letter he had previously sent in was read. He asked the aldermen to reconsider their action, and agreed that if the proposed highway did run through the part he wanted to purchase, he would agree to give the needed part to the city, without any remuneration. There was some discussion of the affair, and it was agreed the matter would be given consideration and further investigation made as to the status of those who wanted to buy the lots, and who want the city to hold the ordinance until the highway is determined.

Ira Knox, third ward alderman, said that he for one was not informed of the visit of the highway officials to Sedalia until he read it in the newspaper. It was his opinion, as well as that of Keenan, councilmen should be informed in such matters when they come up and be given an Ernest W. Baker, secretary of the fair, in checking the attendance, said an almost new record for night attendance in the grandstand was made. However a complete check could not be made until late, but the early reports indicated more than 6,000 persons would have entered the stand for the combination horse show and rodeo.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—It looks like we'll have major league baseball again before the season ends — Greenburg, Ruffing, Mulcahy, Lewis, Keller, Marchildon and now Feller. . . . It's like old times to see those names in the box scores. . . . Wonder how come the American league is getting so many "name" players back from the services? Didn't the National have them before the war?

Important News

The telephones in an Erie, Pa., newspaper office were jangling furiously one evening recently when the end of the war still was an unconfirmed rumor. . . . A reporter picked up one and said automatically: "The report's false—the war is not over." . . . "Whoa, there," came an excited voice from the other end of the wire. "Who's asked anything about the war. I want to know how the sailors made out in today's ball game."

One-Minute Sports Page

Fred (Nashville Banner) Russell, whose "I'll go quietly" furnished some of last year's best reading, will be out with a new volume in a couple of weeks. . . . The minor leagues have picked Toledo for their convention next Dec. 5 and there ought to be enough stirring to make Lake Erie boil over.

Double Charity

The Maxwell Field, Ala., baseball team, winner of 64 out of 71 games, passed by a trip to the national semi-pro baseball tournament at Wichita, Kas. — and a chance for a good slice of prize money — to play two benefit games tomorrow and Thursday. The games, against the Flying Training league all-stars, are for the families of seven Napier field ball players who lost their lives when their plane crash landed and burned enroute to a game with Maxwell.

Envoys' Plane Into A Ditch

One Of Two Is Delayed On The Takeoff For Check

IE ISLAND, Tuesday, Aug. 21.—(P)—The second of the two Japanese surrender planes took off at 8:07 a. m. today for Tokyo after being delayed overnight by a minor ground accident as it was preparing to leave yesterday afternoon.

IE SHIMA, Tuesday, Aug. 21.

—(P)—One of the two Japanese surrender planes piled into a ditch while preparing for the takeoff for Japan today and was forced to remain overnight for a checkup. None of the occupants was injured, however.

The second plane left without incident at 6:40 p. m.

The chief of the Japanese delegation, Lt. Gen. Takashiro Kawabe, was in the plane which continued on to Tokyo with eight others of his party from Manila.

The seven Japanese who were forced by the accident to remain overnight at Ie were given a plain meal and billeted by the island command. They are expected to proceed Wednesday.

The accident occurred after an American C-54 transport had brought the Japanese delegation here from Manila without incident.

One Japanese plane took off easily. The other was being towed from a parking place to the runway by a tractor manned by Sgt. Tony Borbin of Greenup, Ill., and Cpl. Charles Roser of Cincinnati. The plane's brakes slipped and it bumped into the tractor.

The Japanese pilot, attempting to ease the collision, swung one wheel of the plane over a small embankment at the edge of the taxiing strip, and the wheel sank into the ditch alongside.

The plane was held for closer inspection before being allowed to proceed Wednesday.

The Japanese forced to remain overnight included Lt. Col. Mori Takakura, Lt. Col. Kyoshi Minami, Navy Capt. Hidemi Yoshida, Lt. Sadao Otake and the Civilian Secretary, Shunichi Mizota.

The Japanese were met at Ie by Col. Hugh A. Parker of Livonia, Ga., chief of staff of the U. S. army fifth fighter command.

The entire Nipponese party appeared less strained than on their way through here Sunday. All were smiling, smoking and chatting with one another.

Agricultural Awards

The record corn year 1944 was very evident in the 1945 Missouri State Fair Agricultural exhibits. Early entry was a requirement and all corn and seed was subjected to germination tests before judging. This was new to exhibitors but brought favorable comment as a number of attractive exhibits failed utterly in this important test. On other exhibits the germination was weak or low.

Missouri cured meats were well up to previous with the Tinsings from the High Point community the heavy winners in the 1945 Missouri State Fair Show.

Added features this year included hybrid seed and market corn. Both classes should prove popular with the supply of open-pollinated seed stability decreasing.

Judges of the 1945 show were John L. McHoney, Columbia, and Paul V. Renz, Jefferson City. J. W. Kuhler, Jefferson City, superintendent was pleased with the quality of the exhibits which were mostly limited to the 1945 crop season.
